Course Description/Catalogue Description: This course traces the development of a multifaceted cultural practice integrating architecture, garden design, art, painting, and calligraphy into a carefully constructed hospitality ritual. Students explore multiple aspects of Japanese Chado via hands-on learning including aesthetic, economic, scientific, socio-political and cultural dimensions associated with tea. The course is taught in the Lower Level of the Library in the Nakatani Tea Room and consists of weekly classroom lectures and discussions, demonstrations, on-line learning modules, a group project, and typically, a day field trip to the Sacramento foothills and/or San Francisco.

Prerequisites: None

Expected Learning Outcomes: Course learning activities and outcomes are consistent with each of the Sacramento State Baccalaureate Learning Outcomes generally and within these specifically, intercultural knowledge and competence and integrative learning as defined in AAC&U’s VALUE Rubrics: http://www.aacu.org/value/rubrics

1. Describe and explain new knowledge about Japanese arts and culture through experience with Japanese traditions and customs connected with the special rituals of tea
2. Research and apply Japanese aesthetics, theories, and philosophies to one’s own disciplinary area
3. Research and apply Japanese socio-cultural, political and economic concepts in traditional and contemporary contexts in Japan and the United States
4. Provide evidence of developing intercultural competencies, perspectives and practices that support reflective thinking and self-understanding.

COURSE POLICIES and NORMS

- Regular and Constructive Attendance: Please attend all course meetings, notifying instructor of absence, providing appropriate documentation and making use of office hours and email to address general and course specific matters. More than three undocumented absences may result in a lower overall grade
- Diversity and Respect: It is expected that class members will have different experiences and perspectives and that civil interchanges are the standard forms of interaction in class and on-line exchanges
- Timely Submission of Assignments: Student work submitted on time will be reviewed according to the rubrics or grading guidelines. Late work is subject to later review and a late penalty of up to 50%. Students are encouraged to leave plenty of time to submit work to prevent against last minute technical problems.
- Academic Honesty: Students are required to follow the guidelines regarding academic honesty www.csus.edu/umanual/AcademicHonestyPolicyandProcedures.htm
REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

For services or information, please consult with the instructor and Services to Students with Disabilities [http://www.csus.edu/SSWD/] no later than end of the third week of semester so to ensure provision of the necessary accommodation and assistance in a timely fashion. Students with other types of accommodation requirements, including language development, are invited to discuss them with the instructors to facilitate understanding and the best learning experience for all. All information will remain confidential.

Evaluation/Grading System (Assessment): Course participants use SacCT Platform to submit assignments; assignment descriptions and grading criteria are provided in class and on the SacCT site for the course.

Students will collect, select and reflect on learning in the context of Expected Learning Outcomes 1-4 above using the myeFolio as repository and showcase. Student work will be evaluated as follows:
